

Dear soul. . .

I would like to invite all interested parties to join me for a group meditation session where we will focus on the topic of healing our earth . . . .

Climates are changing; dramatic weather conditions and phenomena are experienced, as we, the human race impact dramatically on the world we live in.

Through thought and loving energy emission we can make a huge difference to the planet and all its inhabitation. In meditation we are able to focus our minds and our energies, creating a sacred space for healing to take place.

So please join me for this guided sacred meditation, bringing your divine part in healing the entire world around you . . .

The details are:

Time: 7pm – 9pm

Date: Thursday 5 November 2015
